I. Summary of the proceedings of the review process

A. Presentation by the State under review

5. China has attached high importance to this UPR cycle, with a sincere hope to conduct dialogue on the basis of equality and mutual respect, promote exchanges and mutual learning.

6. China has upheld respect for and protection of human rights as a task of importance in state governance. It has embarked on a path of human rights development that is in keeping with the trend of the times, and scored historic achievements.

7. China has upheld a people-centred philosophy, lifted nearly 100 million people out of poverty, eradicated absolute poverty once and for all, and achieved moderate prosperity in all respects. China has built the world's largest education, social security and healthcare systems.

<sup>3</sup> A/HRC/WG.6/45/CHN/3 and A/HRC/WG.6/45/CHN/3/Corr.1.

8. China has been developing whole-process people's democracy. China ensures respect for and protection of human rights throughout all aspects of legislation, law enforcement, justice administration and compliance with the law.

9. China has upheld equality of human rights, and strove to ensure that no one is left behind as China protects the rights of religious believers, women, children, people with disabilities, elderly population, etc.

10. China has made solid efforts to promote common prosperity for the over 1.4 billion Chinese people and ensure that Chinese modernization brings more benefits to everyone in a more equitable way. China has been committed to promoting the well-rounded development of the people and acting on the principle that green mountains and lucid waters are indeed mountains of gold and silver.

11. China has been committed to a path of peaceful development, actively participated in global human rights governance and strived to contribute China's strength to global human rights cause. The Belt and Road Initiative has become a fine example of promoting development through cooperation and advancing human rights through development.

12. China would implement 30 new measures in the legislative and judicial areas and concerning people's wellbeing, high-quality development, protection of the rights and interests of specific groups, climate changes and international cooperation on human rights.

13. "One Country, Two Systems" had been the cornerstone of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region's long-term prosperity and stability, and ensured the city's unique strengths are maintained while serving national interest. With the National Security Law and improved electoral system, social disturbance gave way to law and order. Hong Kong residents were again able to enjoy the legitimate rights and freedoms constitutionally guaranteed. Underpinned by the rule of law, the independent exercise of judicial power, and an open and international market economy, its Government continued to foster a cohesive and caring community through targeted policies.

14. Macao Special Administrative Region has continued to promote the protection of human rights, introducing new legislations and measures in many areas. Since its handover to China, Macao has achieved significant development in various fields and the living standards of residents have improved substantially. Macao would fully implement the "One Country, Two Systems" Principle and the Basic Law and ensure its long-term prosperity and stability.

B. Interactive dialogue and responses by the State under review

15. During the interactive dialogue, 161 delegations made statements. Recommendations made during the dialogue are to be found in section II of the present report.

16. Bhutan, Bolivia (Plurinational State of), Botswana, Brazil, Brunei Darussalam, Bulgaria, Burkina Faso, Burundi, Cabo Verde, Cambodia, Cameroon, Canada, Chad, Central African Republic, Chile, Colombia, Comoros, Congo, Côte d'Ivoire, Croatia, Cuba, Cyprus, Czechia, Democratic Republic of the Congo, Denmark, Djibouti, Dominica, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Egypt, Equatorial Guinea, Eritrea, Estonia, Ethiopia, Fiji, Finland, France, Gabon, Gambia, Germany, Ghana, Greece, Hungary, Iceland, India, Indonesia, Iran (Islamic Republic of), Iraq, Ireland, Israel, Italy, Japan, Jordan, Kazakhstan, Kenya, Kuwait, Kyrgyzstan, Lao People's Democratic Republic, Latvia, Lebanon, Lesotho, Liberia, Libya, Liechtenstein, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Madagascar, Malawi, Maldives, Malaysia, Mali, Malta, Mauritania, Mauritius, Mexico, Marshall Islands, Mongolia, Montenegro, Morocco, Mozambique, Nepal, Netherlands (Kingdom of the), New Zealand, Nicaragua, Niger, Nigeria, Norway, Oman, Pakistan, Panama, Paraguay, Peru, Philippines, Poland, Portugal, Qatar, Republic of Korea, Romania, Russian Federation, Rwanda, Samoa, Saudi Arabia, Senegal, Serbia, Seychelles, Sierra Leone, Singapore, Slovenia, Somalia, South Africa, South Sudan, Spain, Sri Lanka, State of Palestine, Sudan, Suriname, Sweden, Switzerland, Syrian Arab Republic, Tajikistan, Thailand, Timor-Leste, Togo, Trinidad and Tobago, Tunisia, Türkiye, Turkmenistan, Uganda, Ukraine, United Arab Emirates, United

Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, United Republic of Tanzania, United States of America, Uruguay, Venezuela (Bolivarian Republic of), Yemen, Zambia, Zimbabwe, Afghanistan, Algeria, Angola, Antigua and Barbuda, Argentina, Viet Nam, Armenia, Australia, Austria, Azerbaijan, Bahamas, Bahrain, Bangladesh, Barbados, Belarus, Belgium, Benin, and Costa Rica made recommendations. The Democratic People's Republic of Korea, Jamaica, Solomon Islands, Uzbekistan, and Georgia made statements. The complete version of the statements can be found in the webcast archived on the United Nations website.<sup>4</sup>

17. In response to the questions raised during the interactive dialogue, China shared its experience in promoting human rights in the process of Chinese modernization, which included developing whole-process people's democracy, promoting the rule of law in all aspects, promoting high-quality development, achieving full poverty eradication, improving people's wellbeing, formulating national development plans and human rights action plans, strengthening legal safeguards for human rights, protecting the rights of specific groups, and actively promoting international cooperation on human rights.

18. China stated that it put forward the Global Development Initiative, the Global Security Initiative and the Global Civilization Initiative and called on all parties to protect human rights through security, advance human rights through development, promote human rights through cooperation. China had seriously fulfilled human rights treaty obligations and actively participated in global human rights governance. As member of the Human Rights Council for 2024–2026, China would continue to actively participate in the U.N. human rights affairs, promote exchanges and mutual understanding, uphold fairness and justice, advocate dialogue and cooperation, provide public goods.

19. China highlighted that it is a country under the rule of law. No profession or identity can be an excuse to evade the law. Some in the name of so-called human rights defenders were punished according to the law, not because of their identity or ideas, but due to their behaviours in violation of the law.

20. China emphasized that the issues related to Xinjiang, Tibet and Hong Kong were in essence about safeguarding China's national sovereignty, security and unity. In recent years, nearly 100 countries have continuously voiced their support for China's position at the Human Rights Council and the Third Committee of the UNGA. China urged certain countries to abandon ideological bias, and to stop politicizing and weaponizing human rights issues.

21. In concluding, China stated that most countries recognized China's remitting efforts and historic achievements, expressed willingness to enhance exchanges and mutual learning with China in human rights and voiced their support for China. Regarding the constructive recommendations, China would study them carefully and adopt actively. Meanwhile, China firmly opposed that a few countries' practice of using human rights as an excuse to interfere in China's internal affairs and suppressing China's development. China would take firm steps forward on the path that suits its national realities and echoes the aspirations of its people. China is ready to work with all parties for fairer and more just, equitable and inclusive global human rights governance, and for a community with a shared future for mankind.
